

Trip synthesis is evaluated as a multi-objective transportation problem

External counts are diagnostics only; they are not used in training or model selection.