

Trip synthesis is evaluated as a multi-objective transportation problem

Central test: do better survey dependencies yield better roadside evidence?

External counts are diagnostics only; they are not used in training or model selection.